

USING PLAY TO SUPPORT INCLUSION

Join us virtually on Tuesday, March 5th from 6PM to 8PM.

Technical Assistance sessions will be offered regionally in April.

Play is so important to optimal child development that it has been recognized by the United Nations High Commission[er] for Human Rights as a right of every child (Ginsburg et al. 2007, 183). Building on Chapter 5 from the Powerful Role of Play, this workshop highlights the importance of play experiences and social inclusion for children with disabilities and delays. Participants will learn about the laws that protect the rights of people with disabilities, identify ways to use Universal Design for Learning to create inclusive play environments, and explore strategies to promote access to play and encourage children's participation through modifications and adaptations.
